HEALTH BOARD'S ANNUAL REPORT

Seventy Nine Births and Forty Four Deaths in Gettysburg during the Year just Closed. No Epidemics. No Measles. Interesting Statistics.

Dr. Henry Stewart, secretary of the Board of Health, has completed the report of the work of the Board for the past year which shows a remarkably small number of cases of communicable diseases and a very small percentage of deaths.

The report shows 35 cases reported and 4 deaths. Of these seven were diphtheria, three deaths resulting. There was one fatal case of tubercular meningitis. Other cases of communicable diseases reported in which there were no deaths were as follows: typhoid fever 9, pneumonia 5, mumps 5, whooping cough 3, chicken pox 2, erysipelas 2, malarial fever 1. The report says in commenting on this:

"This is a truly remarkable record for a town of this size. Measles is again conspicuous by its total absence. It is hoped that when it does reappear we will have the co-operation of the public, in willingly isolating cases, and by this means preventing its spreading as in former years. It is the intention of the Board to put forth every effort to have the law regarding the minor diseases fully enforced. As a preliminary, we have published a warning as to the liability of householders. While this is not legally necessary, it was done so that no one will have the excuse of ignorance of the requirements of the law. The outbreak of diphtheria, undoubtedly imported, with its unfortunately high mortality, was the only serious feature of the year's work. Typhoid fever, while showing a slightly higher than usual number of cases, cannot be said to have been epidemic at any time, as the cases occurred scattered through the whole year."

There were forty four deaths during the year occurring as follows: January 3, February 3, March 3, April 7, May 2, June 0, July 4, August 5, September 4, October 6, November 3, December 4. Including two still births, not tabulated, the total of 46 is exactly identical with those of last year. Excluding one non-resident the total of 43 deaths gives a death rate of 10.67 per thousand, using the published population under the census of 1910, 4030.

The deaths at the various ages were as follows: under 1, 8; from 1 to 4, 1; from 5 to 9, 2; from 10 to 19, 2; from 20 to 29, 2; from 30 to 39, 1; from 40 to 49, 3; from 50 to 59, 9; 70 and over 16.

The causes of death were apoplexy 9, cirrhosis of liver 1, cancer 3, infantile conditions 8, diseases of the heart 4, diseases of the respiratory system 5, chronic Bright's disease 7, pernicious anemia 1, drowning 1, lightning 1, suicide 1, diphtheria 3.

There were 79 births during the year, 47 male and 32 female, 75 white and 4 colored. They occurred as follows: January 11, February 3, March 6, April 8, May 4, June 8, July 10, August 10, September 6, October 6, November 2, December 5.

The report in speaking of nuisances during the past year says: "Ten complaints were laid before the Board, of which one was found on inspection to be without foundation. Of the remaining nine, seven were abated upon notification. In one case, we had to serve the formal notice of prosecution, to secure its abatement. In the remaining case after abundant notice, and every allowance made for getting work done (during the military encampments last summer) the Board intervened and had the work done—after which we were compelled to enter suit for the cost of the work. Judgment has been obtained, upon which the bill will be collected, if not satisfied on the 23d of this month."

BULL ON RAMPAGE

Center Mills had some excitement on Wednesday when a bull belonging to Henry Roth got loose and chased Daly Meals around a barn and into a house. Jacob Funt was the next object of attack and he took refuge on a tree. The animal then went to the home of Dr. Smith but was driven away with farming implements, forks, rakes, etc. It was finally returned to its proper place.

The meetings of the association are open to the public who are most cordially invited to attend.

FOX CLIMBS A TREE

That a gray fox will climb a tree was proved on Wednesday when George Snyder and Elmer Yeagy tracked a gray fox to its lair in a large tree on Bonner's Hill, near York Springs. A long ladder was secured from Joseph Lerew and Reynard was taken out alive from the nest 23 feet from the ground. A chase was held on Friday and the fox took to the Hill and after baffling the hounds for a couple of hours ran down to Peter Leer's woods when it was captured on a large tree where it had taken refuge from the dogs. Harland Davis secured the brush.

SHOOTING MATCH

A largely attended and successful shooting match was held on Wednesday at the Baltimore pike toll gate. Fifteen were entered in the live bird events. Five birds were given and Free Pittenturf, George Taylor and J. H. Stover each brought down four. On the second lot of five Pittenturf brought down 4 and the other two only 3. Fifteen were entered in the clay bird matches. Emory Gulden, George Taylor and C. B. Hoffman each winning a turkey. J. H. Stover and Mr. Bixler captured second honors in the clay bird events. Another match will be held in the near future.

A BOLD THEFT

Joseph Keagy, of Conewago town ship, who has been selling produce for a number of years, met with an experience in Hanover, which for boldness, was the limit. Mr. Keagy stopped at a house late in the evening. He stepped from his wagon to deliver a chicken and while standing on the porch making change, some sneak thief stole a large basket filled with butter and eggs, from the wagon and disappeared.

THOMPSON—LONG

A wedding of more than ordinary interest took place in Gettysburg on Wednesday afternoon when Harry C. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thompson and Miss Sophia Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Long were married at the College Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Henry Anstadt.

FARMER HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

George Trump, of Near East Berlin, narrowly escapes death while driving in Spring Grove. Horse Takes Fright. Buggy Damaged.

George Trump, a retired farmer of near East Berlin, had a narrow escape from being killed at Spring Grove, shortly after noon Wednesday when the horse he was driving became scared at a trolley car.

The jolt when the buggy collided with a tree threw Mr. Trump over the dashboard of the vehicle. He alighted on his head at the hind feet of the horse, and the animal itself fell on the pavement in its struggle to get away.

Men about to get on the trolley grasped the horse and prevented it from further struggles until Mr. Trump was extricated from his perilous position. He escaped without any injuries except severe bruises.

The shafts and top of the buggy were broken.

THE UNIVERSAL UNION

The case of the Cigarmakers' International Union vs. the Universal Cigarmakers' and Packers' Union, Incorporated, for an alleged imitation of the "blue label," in which Judge Wanner issued a permanent injunction restraining the latter organization from using the adopted label, does not in any way, affect the Universal Union as an organization. The Universal Union made no defense before the court, and let the case go by default. They have already adopted a new distinctive label, which is now in the hands of the printer, and will in the future be used on all products from the factories identified with the Universal Union.

NARROW ESCAPE

While sitting in the kitchen at his home near Hunters Run one day recently Joan A. Gardner was amusing himself by handling a new repeating rifle which one of his many hunter friends had presented him on Christmas. His wife warned him that there might be a shell in the gun but he scouted the idea of a load in a new gun. "At the time he was pointing the gun at the window pulling the trigger and working the lever when suddenly a bullet crashed through one of the window panes.

OLDEST PENNSYLVANIA SKATER

York Springs lays claim to the oldest skater in the State of Pennsylvania in the person of Rev. L. M. Gardner who is now in his 80th year. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Gardner was out with the young people on Meadow Hill Lake and to see him cut out with his old fashioned curled skates and glide gracefully over the smooth surface you would imagine that he had found the fabled fountain of perpetual youth—York Springs Comet.

BANISH THOSE GRAY HAIRS!

Kill the Dandruff Germs—Stop Hair Falling

Thousands of mothers are looking younger. Their gray hairs are gone. The natural color has come back, and with it a new growth of soft, glossy, luxuriant hair. Why should you look old before your time, when you can look years younger by using

WYETH'S
SAGE AND SULPHUR
HAIR REMEDY

It is Positively Guaranteed to Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color

If other "so-called" Restorers have failed, don't give up hope, but give WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY a trial. You run no risk. If it is not exactly as represented, your money will be refunded.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

DIRECT VOTE FOR SENATOR

Resolution to Amend Constitution Favorably Reported to Senate.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution for the election of senators by direct vote of the people was reported favorably to the senate by Senator Borah, of Idaho, on behalf of the committee on judiciary.

The report accompanying the resolution was a voluminous one, containing many of the arguments of those who favor the election of United States senators by popular vote.

The resolution is expected to provoke a prolonged debate in the senate, and there is not much prospect of action until the ocean mail bill and the Lorimer bribery cases are out of the way.

SENATOR HUGHES DEAD

RAILWAY HANDIN BIG STEEL PLANTS

Brandels Tells Why Prices of Rails Are High.

SHOULD PRACTICE ECONOMY

Says Forty Out of Sixty-five In Steel Companies Are Directors In Fifty-two Railroads.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Financial connections of officials on important railroads with the four big companies manufacturing steel rails were declared by Louis D. Brandels to be responsible for a great part of the excessive cost of operation by the railroads.

Mr. Brandels, as counsel for the shippers of the Atlantic seaboard, opened his argument before the interstate commerce commission in opposition to the proposed increase in rates by the lines in the official classification territory, and he cited both steel rails and coal as two of the things on which the railroads could and should economize.

In connection with his discussion of the question of steel rails he said:

"These four steel companies have altogether sixty-five directors. Forty of these sixty-five are directors in the aggregate, in fifty-two railroads, including the most important systems. Is it a wonder that the railroads did not direct their combinations to obtain a reduction in the price of steel?"

"If we could prevent the excessive prices of the steel rail combination as effectively as congress protected us from excessive armor plate charges, there would be a huge saving."

Incidentally, he pointed out, under the proposed freight tariffs, "these steel products were carefully excluded. No increase is proposed on the other steel products covered by commodity rate."

Mr. Brandels prefaced his argument with the presentation of the fundamental reason, in his view, why the proposed advances in freight rates should not be allowed. This he tersely put as follows:

"We contend that rates are ample, but that the expense of operation is excessive; that wages are not too high, but that, as the management is unscientific, labor, material, equipment and plant fail to give adequate results. We plead for the introduction of scientific management, under which the railroads shall get 100 cents for every dollar expended."

Pleads For Co-operation.

Mr. Brandels declared that no railway company operating in official classification territory had introduced into any of its departments the principles of scientific management. Attention was directed to the statement of railroad officials that the proposed advance would contribute to the operating income of the railroads in the eastern territory only $27,000,000.

"This sum," said Mr. Brandels, "is little more than 3 per cent of the aggregate operating expenses of these railroads for the fiscal year. It cannot be seriously doubted that if a determined co-operative effort were made by these railroads to reduce their operating costs, it would be found possible to effect a saving of 3 per cent even without the aid of scientific management."

Particular work was done by one road at a less cost than it was done by any other road, he said, because, perhaps, of the efficiency of the men directing the operation; if there were co-operation among the roads the highest measure of efficiency could be obtained and the saving of 3 per cent, or even far more, readily could be obtained.

"The economies which would result if all the railroads in the United States introduced scientific management," he added, "has been estimated at not less than $1,000,000 a day. This would result in reducing the present operating cost of the railroads an average of 20 per cent."

Mr. Brandels presented figures to indicate that this estimate was moderate. A saving of 20 per cent in official classification territory alone would amount to approximately $500,000 a day, or $180,000,000 a year.

He believed that a saving of $50,000,000 a year could be made in the one item of coal, his argument being that there was enormous waste in fuel on practically all lines.

Divorced From Bandit's Son.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 12.—Stella J. James was granted a divorce from Jesse E. James, son of Jesse James, the famous bandit, in the circuit court here. James did not contest the suit. Mrs. James was given the custody of their four children and $10 a month alimony. Mrs. James testified that she and her husband had separated three times since their marriage, eleven years ago.

Naughty Words Cost $1000 Each.

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 12.—After being out six hours a jury in the supreme court brought in a verdict in favor of Miss Grace Raymond against Mrs. Naomi Duncombe Ring, a rich resident of Mount Vernon, for $4000 damages for slander. This is at the rate of $1000 for each of the four naughty names which it is alleged that Mrs. Ring called the plaintiff.

MRS. NAT GOODWIN.

Wife of Actor Seeking Divorce Evidence in St. Louis.

MRS. NAT NAMES TWO WOMEN

Actor's Wife Goes to St. Louis For Divorce Evidence.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—Depositions in the divorce suit filed by Mrs. Nat C. Goodwin, better known as Miss Edna Goodrich, actress, are being taken in the office of a St. Louis attorney.

Herman Roth, the attorney for Mrs. Goodwin, who has been in St. Louis gathering evidence in the case, said that a St. Louis woman and an actress, once a resident of St. Louis, would be named.

Miss Goodrich will base her divorce suit upon the alleged actions of Mr. Goodwin while playing at Delmar Garden in the summer of 1909. Miss Goodrich, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Nell Goodrich, who also achieved theatrical fame, are in St. Louis for a consultation with Mr. Roth.

Divorce proceedings were begun several weeks ago by Miss Goodrich in the supreme court of New York. All records of the action were carefully guarded from the public. The first acknowledgment that such an action had been taken by Miss Goodrich was made by her counsel.

P. R. R. TO INCREASE STOCK $100,000,000

Money For Maturing Obligations and Improvements.

Philadelphia, Jan. 12.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, at their meeting here, decided to present to the stockholders at their annual meeting a resolution authorizing an increase of $100,000,000 in the present capital stock, which amounts to $500,000,000. Of the present capital $412,610,700 has been issued.

All of the difference between the amount issued and the amount authorized is at present held in reserve, with the exception of $22,000,000 for the possible conversion of the company's outstanding convertible bonds.

It is estimated that from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 will be needed during the present year to meet maturities and pay for proposed improvements and extensions.

If the stockholders authorize the increase it is proposed to make an issue of 10 per cent at par at this time.

Brass and Iron Works Failure.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 12.—The National Brass and Iron works, a large concern, made an assignment for the benefit of creditors to Charles F. Nagle. The company's trouble is attributed to "losses and misfortunes." The assignment includes factory buildings and machinery. No statement of assets and liabilities has been filed.

Lloyd Tillman Elected Bank President.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 12.—Lloyd M. Tillman, of Tennessee, son of former United States Treasurer Tillman, and bank examiner for eastern Pennsylvania, was elected president of the Allentown National bank to succeed Charles M. W. Keck, who resigned on Monday.

ACCUSE SENATOR OF BUYING SEAT

Stephenson, of Wisconsin, Charged With Bribery.

WANT CONGRESS TO ACT

Legislative Probers Charge Millionaire
With Corruption to Win Seat in United States Senate.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—Charges of bribery, attempted bribery and other corrupt practices, both in the senatorial primary election and in the election of a United States senator by the legislature of 1909 were preferred
against United States Senator Isaac Stephenson.

The charges are made in a statement filed with Governor F. E. Mc-Govern by the committee appointed in 1909 by the state senate to investigate the primary campaign and the charges preferred while Stephenson's election was being fought out in the joint convention of the two houses
of the legislature.

The committee declares that, in its opinion, both the nomination and election of Stephenson, who is a multimillionaire lumberman, were fraudulent and void. It urges that a copy of the report be sent to the United States senate, with the request that that body
make a full investigation of Stephe-nson's right to retain his seat.

Senator Stephenson is charged with violating the statute which requires that an account under oath of campaign expenditures be filed, and it is also charged that such violation was premeditated. It is further charged:

That he violated the law which prohibits any one from contributing money to assist a candidate of the legislature residing outside of the district
in which the contributor resides.

That the civil service law of this state was violated when he caused to be paid money which the evidence shows was paid to State Game Warden Stone and L. B. Dresser, then president of the board of control.

That he gave a sum of money to a supporter of McGovern for United States senator, such supporter afterward switching to Stephenson.

That he paid large sums of money
to others, which was afterward used by them to induce other persons to assist in procuring his election.

Aware of Bribery, Says Report.

"On the whole record, therefore,"

the report states, "Stephenson is charged with knowledge of the manner in which his campaign was being conducted and the purposes for which money was being disbursed.

"The failure to keep or require accounts and the practice of destroying original memoranda by those engaged in disbursing Stephenson's funds in the campaign, makes it clear there was premeditation by his managers to cover up their methods of conducting the campaign.

"That he approved of these methods cannot be doubted. Those managers, in plain violation of law, gave considerable sums of money to Levi H.
Bancroft, C. C. Wellensgard, Thomas
Reynolds, John Mulder, E. A. Everett and W. L. Smith, who then were candidates for nomination to the assembly.

"A large part of money distributed in the Stephenson campaign, probably a sum in excess of $50,000, was used by Stephenson's managers unlawfully and corruptly to procure the nomination and election of Isaac Stephenson
to the United States senate.

"Further, Isaac Stephenson was elected by the legislature to the United States by a majority of three votes, while the charges of corruption made against him were being investigated by the legislature.

"In addition to the several acts of corruption and fraud herein referred to,
it should be remembered that the election of Isaac Stephenson on March 4 was possible by three Democrats, who, at the instigation of the Stephenson managers' agents, walked out of the joint assembly when it became known that their presence would prevent the election of Isaac Stephenson.

"Under the law, if a person elected clearly participated in any act of bribery or attempted bribery, he should be denied office, although the result of the election was not thereby changed. This, in the opinion of the committee, Senator Stephenson did."

The report further recommends that prosecutions be commenced by the district attorney of Dane county
against all persons shown by the evidence to have committed perjury in the investigation, and that a like copy of the evidence be submitted to the attorney general, with the recommendation that he cause to be commenced prosecution against all persons shown by the evidence to have been guilty of corrupt practice or of perjury.

New York Trust Company Sues Scranton Woman For Payment.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 12.—The Union Trust company, of New York, claims that it paid to Mrs. Mary Helen Gilpin $10,967 by mistake on Oct. 16, 1902.

Mrs. Gilpin is the wife of H. E. Gilpin, former superintendent of the Pennsylvania division of the Delaware & Hudson railroad.

The trust company brought suit in the courts to recover the money, and the trial was begun before Judge New-comb.

FIGURES PEARY

MILE FROM POLE

Expert Says Observations Could
Not be Faked.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The house committee on naval affairs completed their examination of Captain Robert E. Peary on his claim to attainment of the North Pole.

Hugh C. Mitchell, a skilled computer of the coast and geodetic survey, testified that he handled Peary's observations. Mr. Mitchell said he had figured that Peary when he made his furthermost camp was less than five miles from the pole, and that in his marches on that day of the climax of his trip
he passed within one and one-sixteenth miles of the actual pole.

He did not fix Peary exactly at the pole. Mr. Mitchell believed that Peary's observations could not be "faked." The committee will hear Admiral Chester and review the testimony in the case at an early executive meeting with a view to passing on the bill proposing Peary's retirement as a rear admiral.

STEEL HEAD WAS LABORER

New President of Trust Reached High Station by Hard Work.

New York, Jan. 12.—James A. Farrell, the new president of the United States Steel corporation, who will receive $100,000 a year, was a laborer
at sixteen years of age, earning $4.50
a week, or $234 a year. He reached his high station by hard and persistent work.

The new president succeeds William Ellis Corey, and was the unanimous choice of the finance committee, of which Judge Eldridge H. Gary is chairman.

Born in New Haven, Conn., in 1863,
Mr. Farrell is of athletic build, over six feet tall and weighing 220 pounds.
He is married and lives in Brooklyn.
His family consists of five children,
two girls and three boys.

GOULD TO QUIT RAILROAD

Rockefeller Man Will Succeed Him as President of Missouri Pacific.

New York, Jan. 12.—George J. Gould, head of the Gould family, will soon retire from the presidency of the Missouri Pacific railway, it was stated in financial circles. He will be succeeded by a representative of the Rockefeller-Kuhn-Loeb interests.

The Gould family, it is said, will not part with their stock holdings in Missouri Pacific, but it is expected the Rockefeller and other interests in the railroad will receive increased representation in the board of directors.

Explosion on Board Destroyer.

New Orleans, Jan. 12.—A "flareback"
from the boiler of the United States
torpedo boat destroyer Roe, anchored at this port, shook the little craft from stem to stern, and only the fact that the force of the explosion was spent in the stacks prevented a serious accident. It is believed that oil was fed into the boiler by mistake, creating sufficient gas to cause the explosion.

Empty Balloon Lands.

Amite City, La., Jan. 12.—A large balloon, deflated, was found on the farm of George Grace, twelve miles east of this place. There was nothing about the aerial craft to indicate the identity of its owners or the point
from which it started.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the taxpayers of the township of Mt. Joy, and to others interested, that the Board of Road Supervisors, of the said township will meet on Saturday, the 4th., of February, at 9 o'clock, a. m., at the election house at Two Taverns, for the purpose of making final settlement of all rebates, and claims held by any one against the township.
All persons holding claims of any kind against the township will present them
on that day and date properly authenticated for settlement.

BECKON TO MOTHER IN CELL

Children Throw Kisses to Mrs.
Schenk in Jail.

EXPERT ENDS TESTIMONY

Cross-Examination Fails to Shake
Story of Doctor Who Discovered
Schenk Had Been Poisoned.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 12.—There was a pathetic incident in the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, accused of poisoning her husband, when the Schenk children, Virginia, twelve years old, and Rob, aged seven years,
discovered the window in their mother's cell in the Wheeling jail.

The children were at the court house with their father, and while he was in one of the offices they climbed out of the automobile and hastened to the tower.

"Throw kisses, Rob. It's mother's window," said the little girl as the window in the tower was raised a little,
and, waving their hands and shouting,
the little ones fairly bombarded the jail with tokens of affection.

Under cross-examination by Attorney O'Brien, for the defense, Dr. Frank L. Hupp, the state's medical expert, concluded his testimony. O'Brien tried to establish by the testimony of Dr.
Hupp that John Schenk's illness could have been caused by other things than
by the administration of large quantities of arsenic or acetate of lead. It was brought out that at different times
Dr. Hupp had prescribed hyemol quinine, which contained arsenic, digitalis and nitro-glycerine, all of which would have the effect of causing the abnormal heart action which was a feature of Schenk's illness, but the witness said none of these drugs were prescribed in sufficient quantities to produce the symptoms of arsenical poisoning evidenced by Schenk.

Mrs. Schenk Unconcerned.

Throughout the proceedings Mrs.
Schenk sat alongside of her counsel wearing an unconcerned look. She seemed to have regained her composure. Frequently she would suggest to her attorney questions to be asked of the witness.

Dr. Hupp is the physician who first attended Mr. Schenk and who first discovered the symptoms of arsenical and lead poisoning which later caused the arrest of Mrs. Schenk. After discovering the symptoms Dr. Hupp secured a sample of the drinking water being served at the time to Mr. Schenk and had it analyzed, and it was found to contain arsenic in large quantities.

"When I first examined Mr. Schenk," said Dr. Hupp, "I suspected that he was suffering from some sort of lead poisoning, but I was never absolutely certain that he had been poisoned until I received a report from analysis of the water. Then I had the patient removed to a hospital in order to preclude the possibility of his securing any more poison. I hesitated to believe that he had been poisoned, and for a time entertained the theory that he was suffering from malaria."

This morning Dr. J. Edward Burns, who assisted Dr. Hupp in diagnosing the poison symptoms, and Dr. John T. Thornton, who made three tests of Mr. Schenk's blood, began their testimony. Both are experts.

The chemists who analyzed the water will then be called, and if possible, Miss Kline, a detective nurse, who was employed to watch Mrs. Schenk, will testify. By the nurse it is expected that the state will prove that Mrs. Schenk offered her $1000 to give her husband a pill containing enough poison to kill him.

SNOW BURIED 12 TRAINS

Worst Blizzard in Years is Raging in Canada.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 12.—The worst blizzard in years has been raging in the Rocky mountains for the past three days, tying up traffic of the Canadian Pacific railroad.

A snowslide near Field levelled the telegraph wires and poles for several hundred feet, carrying them into Columbia river canon.

A dozen passenger trains are almost buried in snow.

Wants Stricter "Dope" Laws.

Washington, Jan. 12.—President Taft asked congress in a special message for further legislation to control the purchase and sale of opium, morphine, cocaine and other habit forming drugs
in the United States and possessions.
The president suggests several changes in the opium exclusion act of Feb.
9, 1909.

Three Men Entombed.

Pittsburg, Jan. 12.—Two miners and a driver were entombed in a mine at Tarentum, near here. The body of Andrew Felock, the driver, was recovered. Three relays of men are working with desperate energy to reach Joseph and John Shikiski, who were pulling pillars when the accident happened.

Lorimer Resolution Read.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Senator Owen's resolution declaring the election of Senator Lorimer to be illegal and void was formally read in the senate and referred to the committee on privileges and elections. Mr. Owen was not present.

THE SWINEHERD.

A mixture of a little salt,
charcoal, ashes and air slaked
lime has a good effect on parasites of the digestive system of either young or old pigs.

If the pigs develop a lighter bone than that possessed by the sire and dam then there is something wrong with the feeding. Pigs must have bone and muscle forming feed and should never be allowed to lose their baby fat.

No animal on the farm will respond to kind treatment quicker than the hog, and kind treatment means a good deal in the accumulation of marketable meat.

Smaller pigs are kept stunted
if left with the larger, stronger ones by being crowded from the feeding troughs.

It pays to grade the pigs carefully. Put the smaller ones by themselves and give extra care.

Haphazard Farming.

The man who says that dairying doesn't pay is the man who never uses
the Babcock test and keeps no record of his individual cows' doings. He is the man who thinks because he keeps twenty cows he ought to get so much milk without any thought upon his part. If you are keeping animals which are eating up the profits of good milk-ers in the same herd, why not find it out right away and get rid of the lazy ones?

They All Demand It

Gettysburg, Like Every City and Town
in the Union,
Receives It.

People with kidney trouble will want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies to-day that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure,
and the cure is lasting.

Mrs. Frank Tawney, 28 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with excellent results. I publicly endorsed them two years ago and hold just as high an opinion of them at this time. A member of my family was afflicted with kidney trouble for years and probably inherited it. This person suffered a great deal from pains in his back and sides and was unable to control the kidney secretions. A cold always aggravated the complaint. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at the People's Drug Store and their use effected
a complete cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents
Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York,
sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

Weather Man Kept His Job.

Chief Moore of the weather bureau took a train in New Orleans for Washington. At bedtime he went to the berth for which he held the coupon, but found that another man had preceded him. Moore waked him up. "See here!" he said testily. "You're in my berth." "Oh, no," replied the intruder sleepily. "I'm in my own berth." "But I have the ticket for this berth," protested Moore, incensed by the coolness of the young man. "Well, you've got nothing on me," answered the stranger. "I have another ticket for this berth myself." There followed a wordy war, into which the Pullman conductor and port-ter were finally drawn. It resulted in Moore having to hunt another sleeping place and ending in an upper, while the young man kept the lower berth. The next morning the two met in the dining car. Moore wanted to discuss the episode of the night before. "Oh, I shouldn't get sore about that," suggested the victor, still cool and patronizing. "Look here," said Moore, with some heat, "who are you?" "I don't mind in the least telling you that," was the calm reply. "I'm in charge of the weather station at Mount Weather, Va." "Indeed?" queried Moore. "Well, my name is Willis Moore, and I'm chief of the weather bureau and, I might add, boss of the station you mention." The young man was not fazed.

CHIEF MAC GREGOR'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

Tricky Highland Man Used His Wits to Save His Head.

Dr. William O. Stillman, the president of the international humane conference, said during the recent session in Washington, apropos of child labor: "I'd like to see the employers of such labor punished every time they break the law, but these men are like the Chief MacGregor, tricky, and they usually get off." "MacGregor, head of the great highland clan, was once sentenced to be hanged. He had been found guilty of stealing. Cattle rearing they called it romantically. There is always a romantic name for stealing when it is done by a big man. "But MacGregor had been caught stealing, and he was sentenced to be hanged. As he was, however, a distinguished chieftain, they allowed him to select his own tree. MacGregor, with great presence of mind, then chose a gooseberry bush. "The judges objected that the gooseberry bush was not big enough, but MacGregor replied with dignity: "Let it grow. I'm in no hurry."

Why He Hired a Lawyer.

Assistant City Attorney Mortimer Levy heard a conversation recently between two negroes in the holdover of a St. Louis police station that explains their conception of a lawyer. "Ah'm gwine to hire me a lawyer dis heah trip," remarked one. "What good is dey?" asked the other disdainfully. "Well, suh, hit's dis way," explained the one who had the faith. "Up in front ob de judge is a passel ob big books with millyuns ob pages in dem. Ebery blame page in dem books hit says 'Dis nigger am guilty,' excep' one, and Ah'm hirin' a lawyer foh to find dat page an' show hit to de judge."—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

A Temperance Lecture.

Booker T. Washington at a dinner in New York praised temperance. "But I can't praise temperance more effectively," he said, "than in the words of old Uncle Calhoun Webster of Nola. Chucky. "When I sees a man," said Uncle Calhoun—"when I sees a man a-goin' home wid a gallon o' whiskey an' a half pound o' meat dat's temperance lecture enough for me—an' I sees it ebery day. An' I knows dat eberyting in dat man's house am on de same scale—a gallon o' misery to ebery half pound o' comfort."

"BACK TO THE LAND."

The writer has lately run across two or three concrete instances of this "back to the land" movement where it was painfully apparent that the ones taking the step should have rented a half acre near their old home and worked it nights and mornings. This would have enabled them to determine whether there were in their makeup those qualities which would make it possible for them to hold permanently that rosy view of agriculture and horticulture that is pictured in the magazines and which has such a subtle fascination for the man who is wearied with the smoke, the racket and strain of city life. If any one having this "back to the land" hankering will painstakingly tend a half acre of onions or other intensive crop, doing the bulk of the weeding, the cultivating and harvesting himself, and after doing this still looks upon the tilling of the soil with zest and favor, it is fair to assume that he would succeed if he engaged in such a work on a more extensive scale. There are backache, sheer weariness, gnawing hunger (a blessing) and often restless nights for the "man with the hoe," and all who have in mind taking up such work should have these facts in view before taking the step. Then, again, aside from one's willingness to do hard work, there is sometimes painfully lacking what may be termed adaptability or knack. This was shown in one of the instances referred to above, where a fine young fellow was just crazy over the orchard business when the fact was that at the end of two months' apprenticeship he couldn't harness a team and get the breeching on the right end to save his gizzard. He simply lacked the ability to "catch on" and in a short time re-entered the banking business, which he left in his "movement to the land." We would not by any word discourage any readers of these notes who long to have a "home on the land," but would only utter such word of caution as will cause them to have their eyes wide open when they take the step. There is hard work, yet competence, health and contentment, for those who till the soil. There should be more folks engaged in it.

A Bit of Translation.

The difficulty of avoiding bad blunders when one is translating from English into such a language as that of the Micmac Indians of Nova Scotia must be very great, says a writer in the London News. We hear from the Bible society of a curious case. In the first edition of St. Matthew in Micmac the translator found when he came to revise it that in chapter xxiv, 7, instead of "Nation shall rise against nation" he had written, "A pair of snowshoes shall rise up against a pair of snowshoes." And yet there was only one single letter misprinted—naoaktukumiksijik (a nation) having been displaced by naoaktukumiksijik (a snowshoe).

OVER 1000 sick horses treated by Dr. Hudson throughout the year, and his loss by death only seven horses. This should demonstrate to you the value of an experienced veterinarian.

TWO DEAF MUTES

By MOLLIE K. WETHERELL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Two young ladies entered a railway car, and the only seat vacant was one turned to face another in which sat two young men. No sooner had the girls seated themselves than the young men began to work their fingers in the sign language of deaf mutes. They were well dressed, gentlemanlike fellows, and it was evident from the rapidity with which they talked with their hands that they could neither hear nor speak.

"Isn't it a pity, Grace?" said one of the girls to the other, "that these young men are deaf mutes?"

"And so handsome, too!"

The words were spoken in too low a tone for their vis-a-vis to hear, even if they had been endowed with hearing, for the girls could not quite feel sure of their condition. As the train got under way, making more and more of a rattle, the girls gained confidence and raised their voices. Since no heed was paid to them by the young men, no matter what they said, they finally became used to speaking in their natural voices.

"Isn't it funny, Belle?" said Grace, "to be talking about people before their faces and they not being able to hear a word?"

"There's a fascination about it," replied the other. "Do you know, I am possessed with a desire to say something I wouldn't have them hear for the universe."

"Why so?"

"Oh, on account of the novelty of the thing. Didn't you ever say all sorts of things to some deaf person?"

"Yes, indeed. My aunt Margaret is deaf as a post. I delight to call her names right under her nose."

"Which do you think the handsomer of the two men?"

"The one with the blue eyes and light hair."

"He hasn't a mustache. You know what they say about kissing a man without a mustache—like eating an egg without salt."

"I wouldn't mind a kiss from him even if he has no mustache."

At that moment the two young men ceased their silent communication, and the one with blue eyes, light hair and no mustache looked through the window. His companion was seized with a slight coughing and put his handkerchief to his mouth. But in a few minutes they were wriggling their fingers again.

"For my part," said Grace, "I prefer the one with that soft black beard. I think a beard that has not long grown is very becoming to a young man."

"Why don't you tell him so loud enough for him to hear you—that is, if he wasn't deaf as a manikin?"

"Do you dare me?"

"Dare you? There's nothing to dare. Don't you know that the reason these people can't talk is that they are born without the slightest ability to hear? Not being able to hear, they can't learn how to talk."

"Is that it?"

"Yes."

"Well, Mr. Man, your black beard is very becoming, and you with blue eyes my friend wouldn't mind your kissing her."

Then the girls looked at each other and laughed. It was great fun to be able to talk this way to two nice looking young men who couldn't hear a word they were saying. Nor could they help looking at the subjects of their remarks to note the absolutely unconscious look on their faces.

Then the conductor came around to take up tickets, and the girls saw that the young men were for the same station as their own. When the conductor had passed Grace said to Belle:

"How would it do to ask them to come and see us tonight?"

"You can ask them what you like. It won't make any difference. Indeed, you might screech in their ears and they wouldn't hear you."

"Well, then, I'm going to do it just for fun."

"Don't."

"Why not?"

"Oh, it seems as if they ought to hear us, even if they don't."

"Do you suppose if they had heard what we had said about them they could help showing it?"

"Of course not."

"Well, then, what are you afraid of?"

"I'm not afraid. Young gentlemen, we are very much pleased with your appearance. We live at 84 North Adams street. We would be very glad to have you call upon us this evening."

She said all this looking straight at her friend. The young men's fingers were going like lightning. They seemed to have found a new subject of mutual interest.

"What would be the use of their coming to see us?" said Belle. "They couldn't talk to us nor we to them."

"Perhaps they carry slates to write messages on."

When the train stopped at the station where all were to alight one of the young men said to the other in a sonorous bass voice:

"Goodbye, Redmond. I'll meet you at 8 at your room."

The girls went home in a carriage, using smelling salts by the way. The time came when the young men made the girls' acquaintance and the call as well, but it was all done without reference to their first meeting.

PROPERTY TRANSACTIONS

J. Frank Lerew, of Harrisburg has sold the Jacob A. First farm at Berks to a Harrisburg party for the sum of $4,800. Mr. Lerew also has purchased another residence in Harrisburg.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

Is an essential element to health. When it is insufficient or lacking, there is a dearth of red blood corpuscles, which causes anaemia and a run down condition of the entire system, with consequent bodily weakness.

In order to restore the blood to a healthy condition, iron must be supplied in an easily assimilated form. We guarantee this may be done by Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, made without oil.

This combination of two world famed tonics, restores to the blood the elements lacking to make rich, red blood, which imparts strength and vitality to every organ in the body.

J. Edmund Miller, of New Haven, Conn., says their little girl had been frail and sickly ever since her birth. Vinol was recommended and they tried it, and immediately noticed an improvement in her condition. They continued its use and it built her up, until they cannot recommend it too highly to build up a weakened system. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Beales, proprietor, Gettysburg, Pa.

Stomach Remedy

Guaranteed by The People's Drug Store.

If your stomach is weak and constantly upset, you must quickly do one of two things.

Allow the rest of your body to become as weak as your stomach. Or make your stomach as strong as your body.

There is only one choice for those who want to live and enjoy life, and that is to make the stomach as strong as the body. This can best be done by using the prescription of a specialist that in years of practice gave immediate relief and permanent cure to 95 per cent of people who used it.

This prescription is known from coast to coast as N-I-O-N-A.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets, most people call them, are guaranteed by The People's Drug Store to cure indigestion (acute or chronic) or any upset condition of the stomach, or money back.

In five minutes they give relief from heartburn, acid stomach, gas on stomach, belching of sour food, fermentation, heartburn and waterbrash.

If you suffer from stomach trouble get a large 50 cent box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets to-day and put yourself on the road of health. At The People's Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.
